

The spirit of Assisi

The spirit of Assisi

we send You a series of documentary photographs and statements witnessing to the so-called mission of John Paul II, which opened the Church to the spirit of paganism, the spirit of New Age and the spirit of apostasy. For this great offence and crime against the Church this Pope should be posthumously excommunicated and not beatified. Openness to apostasy through paganism began with the Nostra aetate declaration of the Second Vatican Council (1965). All propagators of a “new gospel”, especially within the Church, constantly appeal to this declaration.

Let us put an essential question: DID THE SECOND VATICAN COUNCIL OPEN THE DOOR TO SYNCRETISM WITH PAGANISM THROUGH THIS DECLARATION? THE FRUIT GIVES THE ANSWER: YES, IT DID. In such case the whole Council is false in that it stood against the two-thousand-year-old Tradition of the Catholic Church and against the essence of the Holy Scripture. If we want to save the Christian doctrine of the infallibility of the Council, it must be authoritatively proved and declared that this declaration was misused through inaccurate formulations. Unfortunately, Pope John Paul II confirmed the misinterpretation of the Nostra aetate declaration by his deeds. The culmination was the apostatical gesture in Assisi in the years 1986 and 2002. That it was no isolated error is also confirmed by the gestures which preceded and followed ‘the Assisi event’ and thus brought the whole Church to confusion. This apostatical spirit has spread throughout the world and has not spared even the monasteries. Instead of witnessing to Jesus, the only Saviour, and saving the souls from eternal perdition through conversion and repentance there has been an opposite path marked out – a path of apostasy! The fruit of this apostasy within the Church is the spread of demoralization through homosexuality and paedophilia, which has affected even the key positions. This spirit of apostasy has caused desecration of the whole Church. This is not a question of isolated cases but of a whole stream which nowadays is no longer tolerated only but even preferred. And that is a tragedy. Who is most responsible for it is Pope John Paul II. The adherents of syncretism along with liberal theologians are exerting extremely great pressures in order to achieve canonization of John Paul II as soon as possible at any cost! What aim are they pursuing? HIS CANONIZATION WILL IN ESSENCE BE CONFIRMATION OF AN APOSTATICAL LINE which he introduced in the Church through his bad example. This beatification and canonization will be a gesture which will deny the very essence of the Church and no longer allow true biblical repentance. And that is a crime because this path ends in hell.

Throughout the history of the Old-Testament Church God punished the chosen people for spiritual adultery, i.e. syncretism with other religions. This is the principal line of the whole Holy Scripture, because it concerns the essence of the faith. Man either opens his heart to true God or worships creatures and demons. The same critical attitude towards idolatry is in the New Testament too. This basic necessity of a true relationship to God has also been emphasized by the whole Christian tradition for 2000 years.

The present-day Church is to blame most for moral decay of Europe, America as well as of other nations. The responsibility for the laws of homosexuality in the European Union falls on the apostatical Catholic hierarchy. Therefore at the present time God demands from us the most elementary thing: repentance. The Church must turn away from false reverence for idolatry and from the spirit of unbelief connected with so-called historical-critical theology. The Church nowadays is obliged to repent, that means to concentrate all her efforts on the essence – conversion and the following of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Your Holiness, in case You let Yourself be manipulated by the great pressure which is being brought to bear upon You and unless You cancel the planned beatification, the punishment of God's excommunication will fall upon You too for unity with another gospel (cf. Gal 1:8-9). Thus, publicly before the whole Church, You will separate from Christ, excommunicate Yourself from the Church and fall under God's curse. Supposing You died in this state of impenitence, You would be eternally condemned. Realize that You are 83 years old, and the Church is looking at You with great hope that You will start that which is most important – the internal renewal of the Catholic Church. The first step to this must be cancellation of the planned beatification and on the other hand, public repentance for the gesture of Assisi as well as for all offence caused by John Paul II. This is what God, and also the bleeding Church, demand of You today.

Documentary part and the final letter to follow.

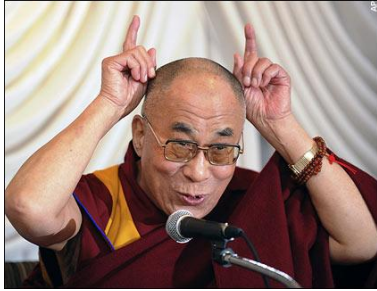

I. Preparation for Assisi

John Paul II embracing the Dalai Lama

On 3rd May 1984, John Paul II said: “Your ancestors embraced such overwhelming spiritual worlds as Confucianism and Buddhism. They enhanced them, lived them and even transmitted them to others.”

Jesus commanded: “Preach the Gospel to all nations...” (Mk 16:15; Mt 28:19) “He who believes will be saved; but he who does not believe will be condemned.” (Mk 16:16) By his gesture of friendship with the Dalai Lama the Pope set a bad example not only to hierarchs but also to politicians of the so-called Christian nations. As a result, nowadays the Dalai Lama enjoys the greatest popularity throughout the world, which, however, causes grave harm to Christianity! The Dalai Lama considers himself an incarnation of a deity (demon). We ask what harmony of spiritual worlds there is between Christ and Belial (cf. 2Cor 6:15). The Dalai Lama propagates the spirit of New Age – false unity of all religions. If any Christian apologist will now defend the true faith, he will be punished by the hierarchy for going against the line of John Paul II.

On 6th May 1984, the Pope said: “May I address a particular greeting to the members of the Buddhist tradition as they prepare to celebrate the festivity of the Coming of the Lord Buddha? May your rejoicing be complete and your joy fulfilled.” (L'Osservatore Romano, 14th May 1984, pg. 7)

The way of Buddha is idolatry and the Pope supports it – this is a crime!

John Paul II in the Buddhist temple

John Paul II went into the temple and bowed to the Buddhist Patriarch.

In his second Asian journey in 1984, John Paul II visited the Buddhist Temple. Before reaching the Temple, he expressed how anxious he was to meet “His Holiness, the supreme Buddhist Patriarch in the Temple". The Holy Scripture says that "what pagans sacrifice they offer to demons and not to God"! (1Cor 10:20) What was the sense of the Pope's visit to a place where one consciously worships demons? Paying respect to idolaters dishonours Christ and offends the little ones. The Council of Elvira, A.D. 305, decreed that "those who in adult age after receiving Baptism shall go into the pagan temples to worship idols (i.e. respect for pagan religions), which is a deadly crime and the height of wickedness, shall not be admitted to communion even at death".

Unfortunately, John Paul II's attitude towards paganism and pagans is diametrically different from the attitude of the Holy Scripture and of the whole Christian tradition. Who is mistaken? Whom are we to obey and follow? The Pope betrayed Christ and the Gospel! He says that non-Christian religions are other ways which also lead to salvation, to one god and one father! To state that pagan religions are ways to salvation is a heresy. The Church teaches that even a pagan who seeks the truth sincerely can be saved. This, however, is completely different from the statement that the pagan religious system leads to salvation. On the contrary, this system is an obstacle to salvation because it kills God's voice – conscience – in the pagan. This happens through Oriental meditations and mantras (the invoking of demons).

On 8th August 1985, John Paul II prayed with African Animists (witch doctors). John Paul II recalled the meeting: "Particularly noteworthy was the prayer meeting at the sanctuary of Our Lady of Mercy at Lake Togo where, for the first time, I also prayed with a group of Animists." (L'Osservatore Romano, 26th August 1985, pg. 9)

(While in Togo he paid homage to the sacred snakes.)

If we should follow the Pope, we shall end up in hell along with the witch doctors: "Those who practise witchcraft and idol worshippers – their doom is in the lake that burns with fire and sulphur." (Rev 21:8)

John Paul II receives the mark of the god Shiva

On 2nd February 1986 (the feast of the Presentation of the Lord), the Pope received on his forehead a sign of apostasy – the mark of the Hindu god Shiva – from a pagan priestess (sacral prostitute). This is public apostasy and offence given to all Christians. The soul of a Christian is a temple of the living God. Through pagan rituals, however, it becomes a dwelling place of demons and their property. The Apostle Peter, the first Pope, said: “There is no other name under heaven given among men by which we must be saved.” (Acts 4:12) It is obvious that the first Pope admits no alternative ways of salvation. That is not only his personal opinion but it is the attitude of the Holy Scripture and of the whole Tradition of the Apostles, Church Fathers and saints. So no one can be saved through the faith in the god Shiva or Rama. “What pagans sacrifice they offer to demons and not to God.” (1Cor 10:20) Through this public gesture John Paul II fell away from the true faith, denied the whole Scripture and the whole Church Tradition and opened the door for demons to enter the Church. He discredited all mission and missionaries as well as the essence of whole Christianity. He thus let himself be dedicated to Satan. Having committed this act as Head of the Catholic Church, HE ALLOWED DEMONS TO HOLD SWAY OVER THE WHOLE CATHOLIC CHURCH. It is a flagrant crime. And now he is to be beatified and canonized for this?

A priestess of the god Shiva (temple prostitute) places a magic wreath round the Pope’s neck.

By this gesture the Pope voluntarily subjects himself to the rule of demons. This is no indifferent thing, for one opens up to demons through a ritual.

The Pope wearing a magic wreath, surrounded by pagan priestesses, serves idols. He caused offence to all Christians.

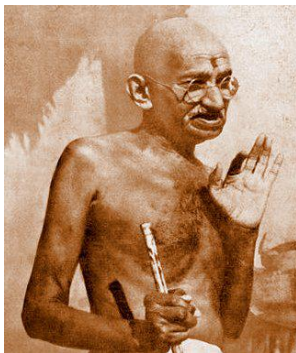

1986, India: John Paul II venerated Gandhi

In March of 1986, John Paul II went to New Delhi, India, the place where the Hindu Mahatma Gandhi was incinerated.

John Paul II took off his shoes before Gandhi's monument and stated: "Today as a pilgrim of peace, I have come here to pay homage to Mahatma Gandhi, hero of humanity. Mahatma Gandhi teaches that it is possible to establish a new world order... May Mahatma Gandhi live forever!"

(Quoted in Abbe Daniel Le Roux, Peter, Lovest Thou Me?, Angelus Press, 1988, pg. 147)

Gandhi is no hero of humanity; however, as for the new world order, he is the father of New Age. John Paul II visits the place of his incineration, throws flowers on his monument, pays homage to this antiprophet and representative of New Age and learns from him. He thus manifests clearly that his attitude is an attitude of betrayal and apostasy from the Gospel! If Gandhi lives forever, it certainly is not in heaven but, in conformity with his obstinate rejection of the Gospel, in hell!

In fact, the Pope preaches that there is no salvation in Christ, as he says that he has found answers to the essential questions in the works of the Hindu Mahatma Gandhi: "I studied the works and efforts of Mahatma Gandhi and I found answers for me, answers for Christians everywhere, important answers. India has so much contributed to the world's understanding of man and meaning of his existence." A Christian finds the life's answers in the Holy Scripture and in the lives of saints. If John Paul II found the life's answers not in the Scripture and Tradition but in the works of the idolater

Gandhi, it testifies to his inward apostasy. No saint or true Christian has ever found or will ever find true answers concerning salvation and meaning of life either in Gandhi or in the pagan system of Hindu India. These answers can be found only in Christ.

An address by John Paul II (India 1986): “God is present in the very heart of human cultures, because He is present in man.” The Pope’s words are relativist, so they can be understood as a heresy. God is present to man because He is the Creator. So is He present to all His works too; however, unless we give a precise definition to this statement, we fall into the heresy of pantheism. God is really present in man through grace, so this person can truly say: “It is no longer I who live, but Christ lives in me.” (Gal 2:20) However, He is not present in this way in the pagans or in the people who are in a state of mortal sin, heresy or unbelief. It is necessary to distinguish between pagan culture and Christian culture. Behind pagan culture is the spirit of lie and death and behind the Christian tradition is the spirit of truth and life. Therefore the Pope’s statements are confusing or downright heretical.

John Paul II awarded by Freemasons

On 22nd March 1982, John Paul II received the B’nai B’rith (Freemasonic Lodge of New York). Soon afterwards, this Pope removed from the Code of Canon Law (CIC) the penalty of a latae sententiae excommunication for membership of the Catholics in Masonic associations. The essence of Freemasonry is a revolt against the Triune God (the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit) and dedication and service to Satan. The Pope thus gave Freemasons permission to hold the highest posts within the Catholic Church with impunity. In December of 1996, the Grand Orient Lodge offered John Paul II its greatest honour, the Order of Galilee, as an expression of thanks for the efforts that he made in support of Freemasonic ideals.

Two Masons in aprons and a prelate

By receiving Freemasons into the Church, granting them an audience and accepting their awards, John Paul II publicly renounced Christ. His gesture set an example to other Church hierarchs who now deepen this fraternity and strengthen the unity. The fruit is the catastrophic current state of the Church.

The roots of the spirit of Assisi

Until the mid 20th century the Roman-Catholic Church took part in no “dialogues” with pagan religions. Why? Not that she would despise or condemn pagans but she was well aware that behind pagan religions personal demonic power is present in a hidden way, as the Holy Scripture speaks about it in many places (1Cor 10:20-21; Acts 26:18; Deut 18:9-14). A historical milestone was the Second Vatican Council (1962-65), where Church representatives adopted a new policy in relation to other religions. Today the Catholics assume erroneously that Christianity may be enriched by various pagan religions. However, pantheistic and animistic elements contained in these religions are tied up with demonism and satanism which resist God and the truth. Through so-called “theology of culture” the Vatican accepted a kind of new special syncretism.

II. The spirit of Assisi (1986)

John Paul II invited pagans and participated in their “prayers”, in which they invoke demons

At the instigation of John Paul II, on 27th October 1986 the first meeting of different religions took place in Assisi, Italy – a so-called World Day of Prayer for Peace. It was attended by 150 representatives of 12 religions, including Buddhists, Muslims, Native Americans, African aborigines, Zoroastrians, Sikhs, Hindus, Shintoists.

The Pope opened the meeting with an address, in which he put the Christian prayer to the one true God on an equal footing with the so-called prayer of all other pagan religions. He said: “Peace is the fruit of prayer, in which all religions express their relationship to one supreme power.”

The Pope’s statement is an overt lie. Peace is the fruit of conversion and repentance, which means, turning away from idolatry, unbelief and sin. There is a true and a false prayer. True prayer turns to the one sovereign God and false prayer turns to demons. Pagans do not pray to God but to demons (cf. 1Cor 10:20). By his word and gesture John Paul II committed a heresy and apostasy, caused offence and opened the way of apostasy for the whole Catholic Church. He thus denied the Church’s Magisterium.

Then the Pope put the Christian churches at the disposal of representatives of pagan religions for performing their rituals and “prayers” for peace.

Buddhists prayed in the Church of St. Peter in Assisi. They placed the statue of Buddha on the tabernacle.

Hindus gathered in the Church of Santa Maria Maggiore in Assisi.

Muslims gathered in the Monastery of St. Anthony.

American Indians prayed in the Church of St. Gregory, preparing their pipes of peace on the altar.

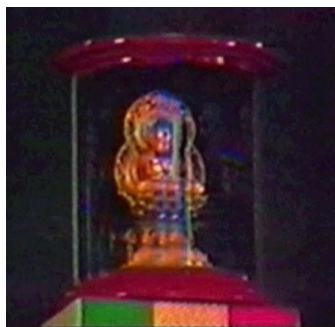

Shintoists were in the Benedictine monastery.

IT WAS TRULY SEVERE APOSTASY. THE CHRISTIAN FAITH WAS PUT ON AN EQUAL FOOTING WITH ALL PAGAN RELIGIONS. To crown it all, at the end they all prayed together “to one father”. The Pope finished with the prayer Our Father.

In this way the Pope emphasized his leading role in the worldwide syncretistic New Age movement. John Paul II became the instigator and leader of Babylon in Assisi.

St. Thomas Aquinas, Summa Theologica, Pt. I-II, Q. 103, A. 4 writes: “All ceremonies are professions of faith. Man can make profession of his inward faith, by deeds as well as by words: and in either profession, if he make a false declaration, he sins mortally.” John Paul II committed not only mortal sin but multiple public apostasy!

The Statue of Buddha on the Tabernacle at Assisi

The Dalai Lama, Buddha and a demonic ritual constitute a triple abomination of desecration in the holy place (cf. Mt 24:15). Yet this was dese-cration not only of a temple but of the whole Catholic Church. Pope Honorius (7th cent.) was posthumously excommunicated for being passively silent on heresies. Pope John Paul II is to be beatified and canonized for actively introducing a whole heretical stream and spirit of apostasy into the Catholic Church. Both the Orthodox and Protestants ask: “Is the Catholic Church Christ’s Church? Has she not become a harlot of antichrist?”

The Buddhists bow before the statue of Buddha

The statue is placed on the tabernacle in the Church of St. Peter in Assisi and the Buddhists perform their idolatrous ritual. The Pope put the churches in Assisi at the disposal of pagans so that they could worship false gods in them.

The Dalai Lama repeats a mantra – a so-called prayer for peace in Assisi

Assisi

Pagans pray to demons. To receive a “blessing” from the Dalai Lama or a Shaman means to open up to a curse and demonic bondage. The question is whether the Pope’s disease in the last seven years of his life was not a visible sign of a curse coming from God and the fruit of this “blessing”.

According to God’s law (see Books of Kings), John Paul II thus brought down a curse not only on himself but also on the whole Church. The result of such a curse is spiritual blindness and loss of the true faith. The majority of the Catholics, and especially the hierarchy, cannot discern the worship of the true Triune God from the worship of demons. They are no longer able to perceive the difference between the faith in Christ and idolatry. Unfortunately, in this state they cannot be saved. The present Cardinals and most of the Bishops are unable to confess the faith and renounce heresies. Such is the reality. In consequence of this apostasy of theirs, which is a result of the loss of faith, on 15th September 2009 they excommunicated themselves from the Church.

God’s sign in Assisi

On 26th September 1997, during the earthquake, the ceiling of the church over the main altar broke and completely demolished the altar. The disaster claimed the lives of two Franciscan friars and two laymen. Regrettably, the apostatical hierarchy as well as religious closed their eyes and ears, so that they could continue the way of apostasy which Pope John Paul II had opened in the Church. Unfortunately, this apostate Pope did not stop his destructive activity within the Church! Today the whole Church is paralyzed by this spirit of apostasy and unable to stop and repent.

III. The fruit of Assisi

1986-1994: After 1986, the Vatican continued its propagation of so-called ecumenical cooperation between the religions. Every year the Vatican organizes similar interreligious meetings in different towns of Europe.

1987 – John Paul II sponsored a pagan prayer meeting at Kyoto

1987, 1988 – Rome

1989 – Warsaw

1990 – Bari

1991 – Malta

1992 – Brussels

1993 – Milano (led by M.Gorbachov) – 300 representatives of 42 religions of the world crowned their meeting with a procession to the Milanese cathedral. Thousands of people went into raptures.

Chicago 1993: Parliament of World's Religions

In the span of nine days in Palmer House Hilton in Chicago a meeting of 6 000 representatives of 250 religions took place. The Vatican took official part in it – represented by Joseph Bernardin, Secretary of the Pontifical Council for Interreligious Dialogue and Archbishop of Chicago. The meeting was attended by Universalists, Buddhists, Sikhs, Muslims, Jews, Baha'is, Zoroastrians, Hindus, Patowatomis... Native Americans performed a pagan ritual and invoked demons.

More than 30 000 people gathered in a large park to listen to the words of the Dalai Lama who clearly expressed a syncretistic dream of this council: “One religion only cannot satisfy the needs of millions of different people. Therefore we are obliged to respect the existence of different religions. It serves the good of humankind. ... As for Tibetan Buddhism, we are moving ahead. We organize an exchange of monks – Christian monks and nuns are coming to our monasteries. It is all very fine and useful.”

How could Christians participate in the Chicago Babylon? The Vatican bears extremely great responsibility for the apostasy in Chicago – it cooperated in it, supported it financially and took official part in it. How deep will the Vatican fall?

Lourdes: In July 2005 during an international Mass in the Underground Basilica in the Sanctuary of Our Lady of Lourdes Hindu women performed Tamil dances. Those dances are inspired by pagan myths and offered to honour false deities.

Assisi 1994: 8th interreligious meeting meant again worldwide apostasy from the Christian faith. How is it possible to put the holy Christian faith on an equal footing with heresies and pagan religions of the world? Would saint apostles take part in such all-heretical and interreligious meeting? Would they give their consent to cooperation with all heretics and pagans of the world?

Catholic Cardinal E. I. Cassidy read out a welcoming address by John Paul II: “Cooperation of all religions is developing more and more deeply.” However, whereto do these relations between Christians and other religions lead? The truth is becoming relative. New world order, new world spirituality and new world morality are becoming a flesh-and-blood reality. The Cardinal emphasized the most essential uniting element for all religions: “the spirit of Assisi”.

What place in this syncretism belongs to our Lord Jesus Christ? What fellowship has light with darkness? What accord has Christ with Belial? (cf. 2Cor 6:15)

Canberra (Australia) 1994: Performance of a magic ritual – so-called purification of the altar – in a “dancing manner” to the accompaniment of wild shrieks

In the Catholic Cathedral Church of St. Christopher a strange worship took place. It was commenced by native Australians – aborigines – who performed a ritual of so-called “purification” of the altar. Are such abominations permitted in a Christian church? The Aborigines brought a “purifying” fire in front of the altar and thus desecrated both the altar and the church.

Representatives of 13 denominations were to pass through the “purifying” fume, by which act they were welcomed by native Australians. Unfortunately the abominations taking place around the altar continued. A many-coloured silk covering cloth made by women of different denominations was brought in a dancing procession, this symbolizing a spirit which as if covered all participants.

Unity with the Muslims

In 1985 in the Moroccan city of Casablanca, the Pope spoke before thousands of young Muslims about the opening of a dialogue with Islam, assuring them that we have one and the same God. However, the Church Tradition clearly testifies that we do not have the same God as Muslims. Their Allah and our Lord are not one.

John Paul II kissed the Koran

The Koran is the Muslims' holy book which blasphemes the Most Holy Trinity and denies the Divinity of Jesus Christ. To revere the holy book of a false religion has always been considered an act of apostasy – a complete denial of the true religion.

Chaldean Catholic Patriarch Raphael I recounts the event in an interview with FIDES News Service: “On May 14th I was received by the Pope, together with a delegation composed of the Shi'ite imam of Khadum mosque and the Sunni president of the council of administration of the Iraqi Islamic Bank. At the end of the audience the Pope bowed to the Muslim holy book, the Qur'an, presented to him by the delegation, and he kissed it as a sign of respect. The photo of that gesture has been shown repeatedly on Iraqi television and it demonstrates that the Pope has great respect for Islam.”

The Pope took off his shoes in the mosque

On 6th May 2001, John Paul II visited the “Great Umayyad Mosque” of Damascus. While in the mosque, John Paul II took off his shoes out of reverence.

In his encyclical of 30th December 1987, he wrote: “Muslims, like us, believe in the just and merciful God.”

During the General Audience on 5th May 1999, he said: “Today I would like to repeat what I said to young Muslims some years ago in Casablanca: 'We believe in the same God...'” However, God’s Word says: “Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son. No one who denies the Son has the Father.” (1Jn 2:22-23; cf. Jn 5:23) It is a blindfolded lie which contradicts the Gospel and the whole Tradition of the Church to state that Muslims and Christians have the same God. The Pope thus proved that he did not have the Catholic faith. St. Thomas Aquinas, Summa Theologica, Pt. II, Q. 12, A. 1, Obj. 2: “...if anyone were to... worship at the tomb of Mahomet, he would be deemed an apostate.” To show reverence for the Koran means the same!

The fruit of this reverence

Hundreds, if not thousands of people were murdered during the Muslim attack on Christians in three agricultural settlements in Nigeria which began at 3 o'clock in the night on 8th March 2010. The Muslims were shouting in a rage: “Allahu Akbar!” and killing defenceless Christians with knives and machetes.

Archbishop Ben Kwashi says: “I could see machete wounds in the necks of children. Kids from age zero to teenagers, all butchered from the back, macheted in their necks, their heads. Deep cuts in the mouths of babies. I could not stand it.”

Another fruit of this reverence is Islamization of Europe. Nowadays there are more than 14 million Muslims in Europe. The Pope let all crucifixes be removed in Assisi and today the Muslims demand the removal of the crucifixes in hospitals and in public areas throughout Italy. When will they start actions similar to that in Nigeria?

Pagan “purification” ritual

Mass in Mexico City in 2002 incorporated the customs of the demonic Aztec culture. Indians danced before the altar, some left their midriffs exposed. As they performed, the snake-like hiss of rattles and the beating of tom-toms could be heard. John Paul II himself was actually the recipient of a pagan “purification” ritual which was executed by a woman, Zapotec

Indian from the State of Oaxaca. During the Mass John Paul II beatified Juan Battista and Jacinto de los Angeles who shed their blood for the defence of the Catholic faith.

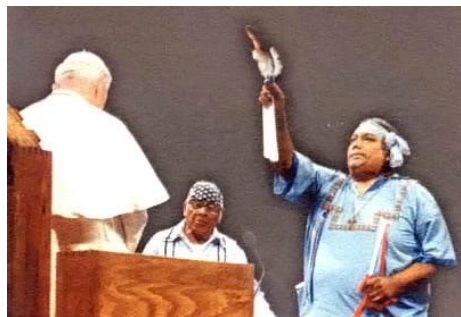

The Indians offered Juan Battista and Jacinto de los Angeles their freedom if they would assent to the Indian idolatry. They refused, and were killed after undergoing cruel tortures. Their hearts were taken from their chests and given to dogs. The day of their martyrdom was 16th September 1700.

It is astonishing that John Paul II allowed idolatrous rituals similar to those that the martyrs died to prevent.

John Paul II receiving a ‘blessing’ from an Indian Shaman

During his visit to Phoenix in 1987, an Indian shaman bestowed a ritual “blessing” upon John Paul II using an eagle’s feather. After the pagan ritual, John Paul II said that the act had “enriched the Church”.

Pagans pray to demons. To receive a “blessing” from a Shaman means to open up to a curse and demonic bondage.

The question is whether the Pope’s peculiar disease was not a visible sign of a curse (the disease manifested itself by unnatural spasmodic gestures and saliva dribbling).

John Paul II – “African tribal chief”

Owing to his gestures and statements, the apostatical activity of John Paul II brought a new thinking in the Church – a heresy saying that Christianity and paganism are equal ways to salvation and that there is no need for mission. This thinking forms part of the contemporary priestly and religious formation. It is a heretical and apostatical thinking!

Mons. Ivan Dias lighting the lamp in front of a pagan god

6 THE INDIAN EXPRESS
BANGALORE

October 6, 1997

Archbishop of Mumbai Mons Ivan Dias lighting the lamp in front of Lord Ganesha at the inauguration of an international seminar on Hindu-Christian cosmology and anthropology in Mumbai on Sunday. —Express

The Indian Express, Bangalore, 6th October 1997
Mons. Ivan Dias, Archbishop of Mumbai, lighting the lamp in front of the god Ganesha. This hierarch fully imitates John Paul II. That was also why he initiated publication of the so-called “Hindu Bible” (interpretation of the Holy Scripture in the spirit of Hinduism), wherefore he was promoted to the rank of a cardinal and entrusted with one of the highest offices in the Church – the office of Prefect of the Congregation for the Evangelization of Peoples. There must be some mistake – it seems to be antievangelization of peoples. This means the death of true evangelization and its end. We published an anathema against the apostate Dias on 3rd September 2008. His external gesture is a demonstration of his inward attitude and faith. It is a sign of his apostasy from Christ. To light a lamp in front of an idol means to offer it divine worship. In case the Catholic Church – her visible structure – has not yet even considered public excommunication of Dias, she convicts herself of having received the spirit of antichrist and of blaspheming the Triune True God. Let us recall the gestures which were demanded from the early Christian martyrs. Just one small sign of reverence for an idol would have sufficed; however, they preferred to go to death. It is impossible to worship demons and to serve Christ at the same time. These gestures of John Paul II, I. Dias and of other apostate hierarchs completely change the fundamental attitudes and thinking of the Catholics and lead to official apostasy.

“In India the future priests are formed in the spirit of Vatican II inculturation and their formation is a mixture of Catholic and pagan customs. This results in half-Hindu, half-Catholic liturgies and customs. Everything is to bring together the religions, not a conversion to the Catholic Faith and rejection of the pagan cult. At least one priest has told me that he views Christ as some sort of an enlightened person. Several dress up like mendicants in saffron robes.”

(A letter from India)

Another fruit of Assisi

The fruit of the spirit of Assisi is manifested in an interview with Sr. Ann (Missionaries of Charity), Pashupatinath Temple, Kathmandu:

Question: Do you believe if they die believing in Shiva or in Ram they will go to heaven?

Answer: Yes, that is their faith. So if they have believed in their god very strongly, if they have faith, surely they will be saved. (note: this answer is at sharp variance with the Word of God: “There is salvation in no one else /only in Christ/.” Acts 4:12)

Question: Today it does not seem that the Catholic Church is trying to convert anymore. I know that John Paul II is saying now that those of other religions are saved. You do not believe they are lost anyway, right?

Answer: No, they are not lost. They are saved according to their faith, you know. If they believe whatever they believe, that is their salvation.

(note: These heretical answers of a religious sister are at sharp variance with the teaching of the Holy Scripture and Tradition but in full accord with the way of apostasy marked out by John Paul II. According to this, Christ sacrificed His life and death for our sins in vain.)

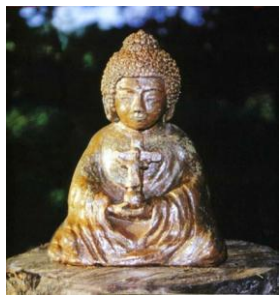

The spirit of syncretism and apostasy, to which Pope John Paul II opened the door, bears its pernicious fruit. A lot of movements took this course, e.g. Maryknoll or Focolare along with its founder Chiara Lubich whom the Church will want to canonize soon. And why not? John Paul II caused far greater offence than her!

Buddhism – France

French Benedictine monk Benoit Billot says a meditative “Mass”. He was initiated into Zen Buddhism in Japan. On his return to France he founded Maison de Tobie – The House of Tobias.

There he teaches Buddhist body positions and exercises on how to manage breathing, sexuality, and circulation of energy. This syncretism is a false way which denies salvific repentance connected with the confession of sins and with the faith that Jesus Christ died for our sins.

The statue of Buddha holding a Crucifix is allegedly to illustrate on Buddha and Jesus but it is a lie!

John Paul II meets representatives of various sects, thereby paving the way which has nothing in common with self-denial and with the following of Christ.

A Hindu dance in a Catholic church

This ritual dance desecrated the shrine in Würzburg. The shrine in Fatima was desecrated in a similar way in 2005, when a Hindu demon called the goddess Kali was enthroned there!

All this is the fruit of the spirit of Assisi.

Assisi II with John Paul II

On 24th January 2002, John Paul II held another pagan prayer meeting in the city of Assisi.

During this Assisi prayer meeting, the representative of every false religion was allowed to come to the pulpit and give a sermon on world peace. In the presence of John Paul II, a voodoo high priest came to the pulpit and gave the voodoo prescription for world peace.

The Hindu woman told the entire crowd that everyone is god, as John Paul II looked on. After each representative finished preaching, they all broke up into different rooms to pray to their false gods.

John Paul II had it arranged in advance that each false religion was given a separate room in which to worship the devil.

All of the crucifixes were removed, and the crucifixes which could not be removed were covered.

The Muslims needed a room which faced East toward Mecca, and it was given to them. The Zoroastrians needed a room with a window, so that the smoke from the wood chips that they burned to the devil could exit through it – and it was given to them.

Desecration of the cross

This association with the New Age symbol called Vitruvian man (by Leonardo da Vinci) is a mockery of Christ's cross and profanation of the sign of our salvation. It is shameful that a Catholic priest is not able to distinguish between Christian and demonic symbols. Thus he participates in public degradation of our Saviour.

The spirit of modern psychologies in the liturgy

Franciscan priest Richard Rohr “celebrates” Masses during which the participants play bongos, chorus girls perform various dances and Rohr calls God Father-Mother. He uses terms of modern psychologies, which are connected with pagan practices and moral impurity.

World Youth Day 2005 in Cologne

What legacy did John Paul II leave in the so-called World Youth Days?

It is obvious that these meetings have nothing in common with the Catholic faith.

During the World Youth Day in Toronto, for example, there was a “mission” of distribution of condoms. This perfectly catches the spirit of loose morals which prevails at these meetings.

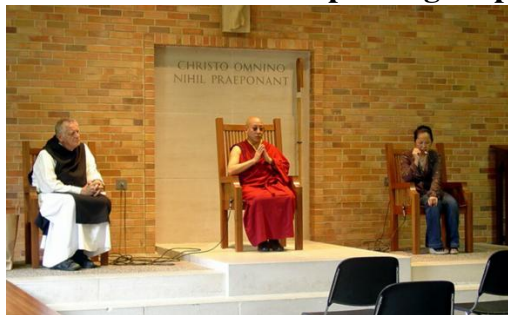

A priest and a religious sister dancing on top of barrels in front of the Cathedral of Cologne.

Unity with Indians

In October 1999, John Paul II took part in a Pan-Christian Encounter. This encounter included a pagan ritual of an American Indian pivoting in the centre of St. Peter's Square “ blessing the four corners of the Earth”.

Buddhist medium Thupten Ngodup in the Abbey of Gethsemani

The spiritual counsellor of the Dalai Lama was received in the Trappist Abbey of Gethsemani. During a tour around the United States (July 15- August 8, 2007) he was invited to address the Trappists in their Chapter Room at Gethsemani.

Thupten Ngodup was seated on the Abbot's chair, the place for the representative of Christ in that community. Ironically, on the wall above the Abbot's chair is the Latin motto of the Trappists: Christo Omnino Nihil Praeponant (Let them prefer nothing whatsoever to Christ).

A common spiritual retreat of the Buddhists and Catholic Trappists

What kind of spirit rules in such spiritual retreat? It is the spirit of apostasy, the spirit of antichrist.

Trappist priest – master of Zen

Trappist priest Kevin Hunt (70) is installed by his master, Jesuit Fr. Robert Kennedy (dressed in Japanese kimono), as the first American Trappist instructor of Zen.

The ceremony took place at St. Joseph's Abbey in Spencer (Massachusetts) on 17th April 2004. Under the “protection” of Buddha (statue in the back) and filing in to the cadence of a Japanese drum, the procession reached the Abbey's Chapter Room. There the instalment was made.

Hunt knelt down, Kennedy imposed his hands upon him and made Hunt his successor; the latter received the “Robe of Liberation” – a black Japanese kimono – and his teaching staff.

Fr. Peter-Hans Kolvenbach, the then General Superior of the Jesuits, wrote a letter praising Hunt's achievement as “one that we can all celebrate in thanksgiving to God”.

How is it possible that the Trappist priest Hunt and the Jesuits Kennedy and Kolvenbach have not been excommunicated from the Church for their public apostasy? The answer is: The spirit of Assisi has excommunicated the Holy Spirit from the Church.

A Paulist priest teaches yoga in New York City

Fr. Thomas Ryan sits on his heels in a Buddhist position before starting his class.

Fr. Ryan is a certified Kripalu Yoga instructor. In 1991, during a year of sabbatical in India, he was initiated in yoga and Buddhist meditation.

From September to May he teaches four or five 10-week sessions of yoga and meditation for an average of 30 persons per class at St. Paul the Apostle Parish in midtown Manhattan. Each session lasts an hour and 45 minutes. This also is “the spirit of Assisi”.

Nuns gather in Buddhist Temple (23-26 May 2003)

A Catholic priest preaches to Catholic nuns, who gather for a retreat at the Hsi lai Buddhist Temple (Hacienda Heights, CA). Behind the priest, an altar to celebrate the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass is set up in front of the statue of Buddha.

This too is the way of apostasy from Christ to pagan idolatry.

Poor Clares making Buddhist ceremonies

At a Poor Clares convent in Paris, the nuns take part in a prayer service that mixes Zen practices and Catholic prayer. The five nuns practise zazen, a Japanese form of Zen Buddhism. Barefoot nuns in secular clothes assume meditative postures and make a circular “procession” in front of a large crucifix.

At the base of the crucifix in a place of prominence is a photo of master Narita of Zen Buddhism and an open Bible. A burning candle to the side and a pot of incense on a mat pay homage indiscriminately to the Zen master and Christ.

Apostasy of religious from the saving faith and this pernicious syncretism is the fruit of “the spirit of Assisi”.

Dancing religious sisters from the USA

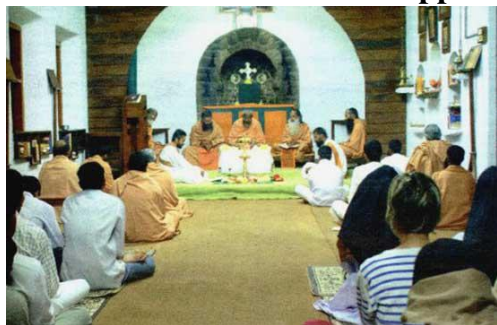

Dancing Catholic nuns represent 115 Catholic Congregations of Religious Women in America.

From July 14-16, 2002, they gathered at Loyola University to discuss the catastrophic crisis of vocations their congregations are experiencing and to suggest solutions to the problem. The only solution is deep conversion and initiation of religious sisters into true interior prayer. All psychologies and Oriental practices are a deceit and a way to eternal perdition!

Kurisumala – the Hindu-Trappist monastery in India

A Mass in the Trappist monastery of Kurisumala, India. Like all the monks, the three concelebrating priests wear saffron tunics and are seated on the floor, legs crossed in the lotus position.

The liturgy has been completely “inculturated” into the Syro-Malanchar worship customs. The priest offers the Mass to “the Establisher of the eternal dharma for peace and the restoration of the cosmic order”. The music is a mixture of songs from a Hindu Bhagavad-Gita source, Vedic Upanishads hymns, and some of St. Ephrem’s canticles. This pernicious syncretism has been promoted through an argument that the new path in the Catholic Church was officially approved by John Paul II in Assisi. This path, however, is a path of betrayal of Christ and of the Church!

Papal Nuncio lights a lamp to Hindu deities

The Papal Nuncio to the United States, Archbishop Pietro Sambi, attended a ceremony at John Paul II Cultural Center in Washington, DC, to give awards to those who “built bridges” between religions, in order to establish the union of all religions.

On the occasion, Archbishop Sambi lit a candle in a devotional lamp to Hindu deities.

One of the main feasts in the Hindu religion is made in homage to Lakshmi, the goddess of abundance and wealth. At this ceremony, a ritual lamp with five candles is placed on a painted mat and lighted in honour of the goddess Lakshmi and god Ganesh the conqueror (a lamp in honour of the latter was also lit by the then Archbishop of Mumbai I. Dias on 5th October 1997). In the villages of India, the cows are adorned and worshipped at this festival, because Lakshmi is said to be incarnated in all cows.

Even this madness is the fruit of “the spirit of Assisi”.

Muslim whirling dervishes dance at the Catholic Votive church in Vienna

On 30th November 2007, Muslim whirling dervishes from Turkey performed their ritual Sufi dances in the Votive Catholic church of Vienna. Muslims thus commemorated here the 734th anniversary of the death of Sufi founder Mevlana Rumi.

The ceremony was promoted by the Archdiocese of Vienna. Opening the Sufi religious ceremony was Fr. Martin Rupprecht. Speaking on behalf of Cardinal Christoph von Schonborn, he said in Turkish: “I greet my whirling brothers with heartfelt feelings.” He went on to tell the audience that “it was beautiful to see Muslims in a Catholic Church”.

The Turkish ambassador to Vienna, Selim Yenet, also gave a speech praising Mevlana Rumi and Mohammed. After the performance, a Muslim Sufi recited verses of the Koran before the altar. Even this desecration of the church is the fruit of “the spirit of Assisi”.

Rock’n’roll mass in the Catholic church of St. Alphonsus Liguori Rock’n’roll dancers performing rock dance routines in front of the altar during a highly attended Mass in St. Alphonsus Liguori Catholic Church in St. Louis (MO) which calls itself a “rock” church.

Behind the rock music is the spirit of impurity, occultism, violence and unbelief. This music is an opposite of sacral Christian songs. Through the rock dance also works the unclean spirit!

The Church goes to nightclubs

Spanish Bishop Horlando Arce Moya, taking advantage of the aggiornamento, used to play at night clubs after the Second Vatican Council.

The Punk Priest

Fr. Robert Lubic in 1991, commemorating Halloween with some friends while he was studying at Saint Vincent Seminary (Latrobe, Pennsylvania). This is a testimony what kind of spirit holds sway over the seminaries and what the fruit is of the present-day priestly formation.

Dominican nuns celebrate Halloween

In the Convent of the Dominican Nuns of Summit (New Jersey), Dominican nuns wear witch hats and masks to celebrate the day of Halloween 2006. (“Halloween” – a feast of satanists – has its origin in the far past when Celtic priests – sorcerers – went from house to house and demanded sacrifices for their god Samhain – sometimes even a member of a family for a ritual murder. Whichever house refused, they killed them all. Then they used human fat to make candles and put them inside hollowed beets.)

St. Dominic of Guzman, the Founder of their Order, fought principally against the Cathars and Albigensians – a heresy associated with witchcraft. Unfortunately, today the spiritual daughters of St. Dominic venerate witch traditions. Even this is the fruit of “the spirit of Assisi”.

The ecological party in a Benedictine monastery

The spirit of these celebrations seems completely at variance with that of St. Benedict, co-founder and inspirer of the Benedictine Sisters, who wrote in his Rule: “Coarse jests, and idle words or speech provoking laughter, we condemn.” (Chap. VI).

At present, ecology is one of the chief means of New Age propagation.

Mother Teresa praying at Gandhi’s monument

Mother Teresa is praying to Mahatma Gandhi at his tomb in New Delhi (1997). It is shameful that a “Catholic saint”, instead of venerating the tombs of missionaries-martyrs in India, publicly venerates the father of New Age, a Hindu guru. This is public idolatry and it gives offence to the little ones. The question is whether all who were canonized by John Paul II are really saints.

Missionary of Charity wearing rainbow Hawaiian lei

Missionary of Charity poses with rainbow Hawaiian lei, oversized “love” glasses and clownish hat. The root of the problem of secularization is that nowadays religious institutes substitute social and humanitarian activity for spiritual life and true mission which is to proclaim a definite way of salvation in Jesus Christ.

Holy Redeemer Parish marches in “gay” parade

Most Holy Redeemer Parish is in the Castro homosexual district of San Francisco.

On 25th June 2006, after Sunday Mass, the local priest Fr. Steve Meriwether blesses homosexuals who are getting ready to go downtown to march in the “gay pride” parade.

Fr. Meriwether blessed also the trolley car that took the parish delegation to the “gay pride” parade.

The banner held by the homosexuals carried the slogan: Holy Redeemer Catholic Church. Even this loss of judiciousness and common sense is the fruit of “the spirit of Assisi”.

Catholic bishops in the vestment with the rainbow colours

At World Youth Day 1997 in Paris, a fashionable French couturier was hired to design the vestments the Cardinals and Bishops would wear at those ceremonies. The result was vestments with the rainbow colours. The rainbow colours are a well-known symbol of homosexuals and of the New Age movement.

1985 – “Gay” Pride Parade in New York City

Five Catholic priests take part in the demonstration in support of the gay “rights”.

One declared to the press that they were homosexuals and represented a much higher number of priests who did not come.

They march under the banner of “Dignity”, the well-known homosexual organization. In 2009, the Pope apologizes for paedophilia of the priests in USA and Australia.

Jesuit priest Robert Ver Eecke dances in front of the altar in a church of Boston

What does it mean – a half-naked priest dancing in the church instead of celebrating Holy Mass? This likewise is the fruit of “the spirit of Assisi”, the spirit of apostasy from Christ and His Gospel!

Jesuit priest Saju George performs so-called liturgical dances

The feminine priest performs a dance called the Bharatanatyam which he learned from Hindu gurus.

This dance is performed in Hindu temples to worship their false divinities.

Fr. George’s statement that by his exhibition he “gives momentum to God’s word in tangible form” is absurd.

John Paul II greeting the voodoo “high priest”

In Cotonou (Benin, Africa) February 1993, John Paul II greets the voodoo “high priest”, who was accompanied by other voodoo witchdoctors.

The animist religion to which they belong worships the souls of ancestors, the forces of nature, and also the devil. In Cotonou, on 4th February 1993, chanting girls treated John Paul II to a “trance inducing” voodoo dance.

The Pope blindly sees pagan rituals, which are connected with magic and with the invoking of spirits, as mere culture. To take part in the satanic voodoo ritual means to open up to the influence of demons and, moreover, it sets a bad example and causes offence to all Christians.

Indian Mass with pagan symbols and blessing

On 24th June 2005 in San Gabriel Mission Church in Los Angeles a Confirmation Mass took place, integrating Indian rituals, songs and dances into the Catholic liturgy.

Auxiliary Bishop Gabino Zavala officiated at the event, calling it an “historic” Native American Mass.

After a pagan blessing of the “sacred space”, Bishop Zavala began the service. The Offertory song was “Planting Stick”, the Communion song, the “California Bear Healing”, and the meditation and exit hymns were ancient pagan songs in the Tongva Indian tongue.

The picture shows Bishop Zavala in prayer before the “sacred sage” is lit for a Tongva “blessing” to be given to the Confirmation recipient. What kind of spirit will the confirmants receive? Obviously a demonic one through the pagan ritual and pagan songs. Even this is the fruit of Assisi!

The Mass of the future in Los Angeles

Jesuit Fr. Steve Kelly says a Mass for a small community somewhere in Los Angeles (the “Invocation”).

Vitrage

The stained glass window is placed in St. Ambrose Catholic Church in Buffalo (New York). It depicts pagan divinities and offers them as objects of worship for Catholics.

In the first two panels are God the Father and God the Son with outstretched hands.

Moses, as a representative of Judaism, and Mohammed of Islamism are pictured together as equals in the third panel. Over the turban-covered head of Mohammed is the crescent.

Rock'n'roll dancers

Belgian religious sister Johanne Vertommen dances with missionary priest Fr. John in a close-up of World Youth Day 2005 (Cologne, 16-21 August).

When a reporter asked Sr. Johanne about her dancing poses, she answered: "My superior mother raised the issue today. She thinks I should watch out a bit and bear in mind that I represent our community." The missionary as well as the religious sister and her superior ought to be dismissed from their religious institutes. Unfortunately, religious institutes groundlessly dismiss orthodox Catholic religious unless they subordinate themselves to the spirit of apostasy and to the "spirit of Assisi" by virtue of obedience.

A clownish mass

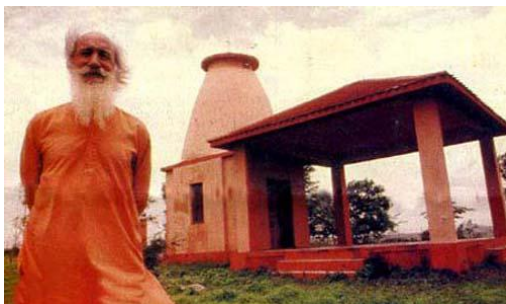

Such Mass was celebrated recently in a Catholic Church in Switzerland.

The clown acted as the acolyte and gave a speech. A sad parody with a clown unfortunately reflects the state of God-consecrated persons. They are poking fun at God, the Church and people. Even this is the fruit of Assisi.

A Catholic church in the shape of a Hindu symbol

Spanish Jesuit Fr. Peter Julia became a priest in 1960. In 1966 he was assigned to missionary work in Nasik, India. There Peter changed his name to Shilananda and adopted Hindu customs. He said he found “the ideal place for blending Christian faith with Indian culture”. He also built a church in a shape inspired by the most common symbol of the Hindu deity Shiva. This syncretism which runs counter to the essence of the Gospel and Tradition is nowadays a “new way” opened by John Paul II.

Antimission of the Catholic “Indian Missionary Society”

The fruit of the spirit of Assisi is an anti-mission of the Catholic “Indian Missionary Society” which founded a movement called “Khrist Bhakta” for unbelievers. The aim of the movement, which is in the charge of Fr. Anil Dev, is not conversion and salvation of Hindus, Buddhists, Muslims or Sikhs but only mediation of a false view of the person of Jesus Christ to adherents of different religions and thus “enrichment” of their religion. The result is total syncretism. Hindus will include Jesus in the galaxy of thousands of gods, Buddhists will enrich themselves with the teachings of a “master” and Muslims will receive the teaching of a “prophet”. This terrible degradation of the one true God and our Saviour Jesus Christ is also the fruit of the spirit of Assisi.

Haiti Earthquake

On 12th January 2010, the island of Haiti was struck by a powerful earthquake which claimed the lives of about 70 000 people and caused severe material harm. Even a converted voodoo sorceress stated that it was God’s punishment for a curse brought down by the satanic voodoo sect. However, the Catholic Archbishop said that it was no God’s punishment but just a natural phenomenon. Voodoo priest M. Beauvoir stated that the time had come for “unification of religions” and assured the people present of reincarnation of the souls. Then they sang a song worshipping a snake demon Dambal which symbolizes rebirth. This confusion of mind and denial of the Christian faith is the fruit of the spirit of Assisi. “...you burnt incense to other gods ... so My fury and My anger were poured out and kindled in the cities; and they are wasted and desolate, as it is this day.” (see Jer 44:4-6)

Fiery appearance in 2006

A fiery silhouette appeared in a photograph taken during a ceremony held in commemoration of the first anniversary of the death of John Paul II in Poland. Some regarded it as a sign of holiness, others as a sign that John Paul II is in either purgatorial or eternal fire! In no case can this apostate Pope be beatified. It would be a public denial of the essence of both the Gospel and the Church!

Documentary photographs are available on www.traditioninaction.org and on our web pages.

Cancellation of beatification – a reform of the Church

Your Holiness,

God through our mediation faces You with a decision on which depends the salvation of millions of souls and on which also depends Your fate after death – eternal condemnation or eternal salvation.

You know well that Your predecessor John Paul II consciously committed such acts which the Holy Scripture and the Church Tradition call idolatry and apostasy, i.e. a deadly sin. You know that he did it publicly and thus set a bad example to the whole Catholic Church as well as to those who are outside the Church. You also know well that in consequence of his syncretistic gestures practically all Church hierarchy as well as almost all priests, and even the misled laity, opened up to pagan practices, philosophies, occultism and idolatry. They have thus fallen away from the saving faith and both their souls and mind have been bound by demonic powers working through paganism (cf. 1Cor 10:20).

Instead of preaching of the Gospel to the world we can see such gestures in the life of John Paul II which deny the fundamental truth of the faith, i.e. that Jesus Christ is the only Saviour. Embraces with the Dalai Lama who makes himself god, participation in magic rituals of a so-called blessing (curse), receiving of a magic wreath and of the mark of the god Shiva on his forehead from a Hindu priestess, as well as a public demonstration of friendship with Shamans and Masons – these all are gestures of apostasy giving offence to the whole Church. His statement that Buddhists, Hindus, Shamans, Voodooists etc. worship the one true God like Christians is a lie. Permission for pagans, witchdoctors and all those who worship demons to practise their idolatry in the Catholic temples is desecration not only of these temples but of the whole Church. PERMISSION FOR THE BUDDHISTS TO PLACE IN HIS PRESENCE THE STATUE OF BUDDHA ON THE TABERNACLE IN PLACE OF THE CROSS AND TO WORSHIP AND “ADORE” IT is a manifest apostatical gesture set as a precedent for the Church on the path to apostasy!

Men, women and children in the history of the Church preferred to sacrifice their lives rather than to do what was done by John Paul II. Your Holiness, before this multitude of thousands of martyrs and before the living God, who will come again to judge the living and the dead, we call upon You as the successor of Peter to definitely condemn the syncretistic gestures of John Paul II. We hereby appeal to You to declare not only the gestures in Assisi to be idolatry but the whole apostatical line which John Paul II introduced into the Church!

Your Holiness, You must tell the Church and the world that to permit the statue of Buddha to be placed on the tabernacle in place of the cross and worshipped is a deadly sin, an affront to the martyrs and a mockery of Christ. However, if You remain silent for fear of the apostate cardinals and bishops and for fear of the world, You will thus betray Christ and His Church. If You allow the planned beatification of John Paul II on 10th October 2010, You will thus automatically tell the world that the worship of Buddha and placing him on the altar, on the tabernacle in place of the cross, is no betrayal or denial of Christ! BUT THIS WILL MEAN THAT YOU PROCLAIM A DIFFERENT GOSPEL AND DO NOT LOVE THE TRUTH! Following Your example, Christians will fall away from Christ and God will condemn You by His unequivocal and immutable word – Gal 1:8-9; 2Thes 2:10-12.

Your Holiness, on behalf of Christ crucified we beseech You: Put aside fear and cancel beatification of John Paul II, condemn his apostatical gestures and call upon the Church to repent and to return to Christ. Next we ask You to dissolve the apostatical College of Cardinals even officially and to institute the College of the Twelve in which You will continue to represent Peter. After Your death Your successor will be elected from this College instituted by You. We propose again that You transfer the centre: come out of Babylon (Rome – 1Pt 5:13) to Jerusalem. There start the reform of the Church. The first step of this reform is cancellation of the beatification of John Paul II.

It is necessary that You personally, together with the other 11 men of God, start the reform of the Church. Start the reform concretely by removing from office all apostate bishops (who have not confessed the faith and cover up or are silent on heresies) and appoint new ones in their place. Besides, remove from office all cardinals who have publicly betrayed Christ and excommunicated themselves from the Mystical Body of Christ as apostates. Dissolve this institution – now already anachronic and afunctional!

Your Holiness, You do not have much time; You are 83.

We pray for You and ask for Your blessing.

John Paul II – a preacher of a new gospel

The Lord Jesus sent the Apostle Paul “to open the eyes of the Gentiles, so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God” (Acts 26:18).

John Paul II was doing the exact opposite – he sustained the pagans in their darkness and service to demons. He abused divine authority entrusted to him and forced this false path upon the Church, whereby he changed the essence of the Gospel. The Word of God says to this activity of his: “Not that there is another gospel, but there are some who are confusing you and want to pervert the gospel of Christ. But even if we, or an angel from heaven, should preach to you a gospel contrary to that which we preached to you, let him be accursed. As we have said before, so now I say again: If any one is preaching to you a gospel contrary to that which you received, let him be accursed.” (Gal 1:8-9)

In no case can John Paul II be beatified because the official Church would thus confirm a false gospel and this would mean the end of both the papal authority and of this official Church.
